JDAIM: Jewish Disability Awareness and Inclusion Month

Park Avenue Synagogue is deeply committed to creating a spiritual home for our community where everyone is viewed as being “created in the image of God.” Our Inclusion Committee works tirelessly to make sure that our community is welcoming and accessible for all members and guests. This month, in recognition of JDAIM, community members will again speak from the bimah on Friday evenings during Kabbalat Shabbat. In addition, we are honored to welcome Rabbi Dr. Bradley Shavit Artson as our speaker on February 23–25. A longtime advocate of human dignity and inclusion and the father of a child with special needs, Rabbi Artson holds the Abner and Roslyn Goldstine Dean’s Chair of the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies in Los Angeles. He received his Doctorate in Philosophy and Theology from Hebrew Union College–Jewish Institute of Religion, focusing on the integration of science and religion advocating Process Theology. Rabbi Artson will speak at Shabbat dinner on Friday evening about his personal experience of raising a child with special needs.

Inclusion is not a series of programs, but rather a priority and a value that frames how we approach one another. As we continue our efforts toward becoming a fully inclusive community, PAS leadership has created an Inclusion Fund to support our development and implementation of programs and training. You can learn more about this fund and make contributions at pasyn.org/giving/ opportunities.

The title for Rabbi Artson’s Friday evening talk frames our aspirations: My House Shall Be a House for All People: Building a Truly Inclusive Community. We hope you will join us and learn how you can be part of making this vision a reality.

Celebrate the Future

For our students, I look forward to PAS building on our Jewish values of welcoming the stranger, knowing that true happiness comes from giving to the less fortunate, and never forgetting our past.

—Pauline Zablow

PAS has played a large role in shaping my identity and my sense of community. I hope to see more people become involved and find a community within PAS and everyone, no matter what age, learn about their Jewishness.

FROM THE EDUCATION TEAM
ELLEN ALT, ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE

Art for Purim

Fun, fun, fun! Costumes, hamentaschen, parties, and jollity. Reading the megillah, spoofing the megillah, giving tzedakah, and sending gifts of food to friends and neighbors.

As Artist-in-Residence, I involve children of all ages in learning about all the dimensions of Purim.

During the annual Purim carnival, young children make groggers by putting beads in small cardboard boxes, which they color and decorate with more beads. High school volunteers help them seal the boxes with tape. At the Purim party for 3rd–5th graders, older children make groggers from recycled water bottles, beads, and ribbons.

In 5th grade, we explore the concept of how a mask can project an image while protecting a secret. We review the Purim story from this angle and each learner creates a mask for one of the characters in the megillah. They paint the outside of the mask the way their character wants to be seen and write the character's secret on the inside. Esther is always a popular choice, being a confident Queen in public, while hiding her Jewish identity until she reveals it to save her people. Gan (Kindergarten) classes learn about the Purim characters and then work in small groups to create pictures of the characters on large paper.

From silly to serious, Purim is a great opportunity to review history and revel as a community.

The Art of Barbara Wolff

Through February

Barbara Wolff's illuminated texts are created in the tradition of the great medieval Hebrew manuscripts. Made with materials and techniques of the 14th century, and with an awareness of the history, archeology, geography, and customs of ancient Israel, where these texts were first spoken, her illuminations yet reflect a 21st-century sensibility. Visit pasyn.org/gallery to view a video of Barbara Wolff illuminating the final verse of Psalm 104.

POSTCARD FROM CAMP

Announcing the PAS Jewish Camping Fund

As Rabbi Cosgrove has stated, “the value of Jewish camping is a PAS value.” The unique ability of Jewish camps to inculcate a joyful and lifelong commitment to our tradition is irrefutable. In order to underscore the significance of these summers, PAS leadership has created a Jewish Camping Fund. Contributions to this fund (which has already received donations!) can be made easily online via pasyn.org/giving. The Jewish Camping Fund will provide scholarships to help pay for tuition at camps with a Jewish mission that are associated with the Foundation for Jewish Camp. Families with new campers are also encouraged to apply for a One Happy Camper Grant that offers $1000 to first-time campers through the Foundation for Jewish Camp.

For more information about scholarships or for assistance in choosing the best Jewish camp for your child, please contact Rabbi Witkovsky; Congregational School Director, Jennifer Stern Granowitz; or PAS Director of Youth Engagement, Hallie Chandler.

For more information and to register for any event, see the Teen or Youth email, visit pasyn.org/youth-rjnhs, or contact Hallie Chandler, Director of Youth Programming and Engagement, at hchandler@pasyn.org or x147.

As part of our effort to foster a caring community, the Caring Network provides support, solace, and hope to congregants and their families during times of illness, suffering, loss and grief. We also reach out to families during joyful transitions – birth, adolescence, marriage and beyond. For information about the Caring Network's professional support, support groups, and educational opportunities, please visit pasyn.org/caringnetwork.
